

The Battle of Ammon Lam

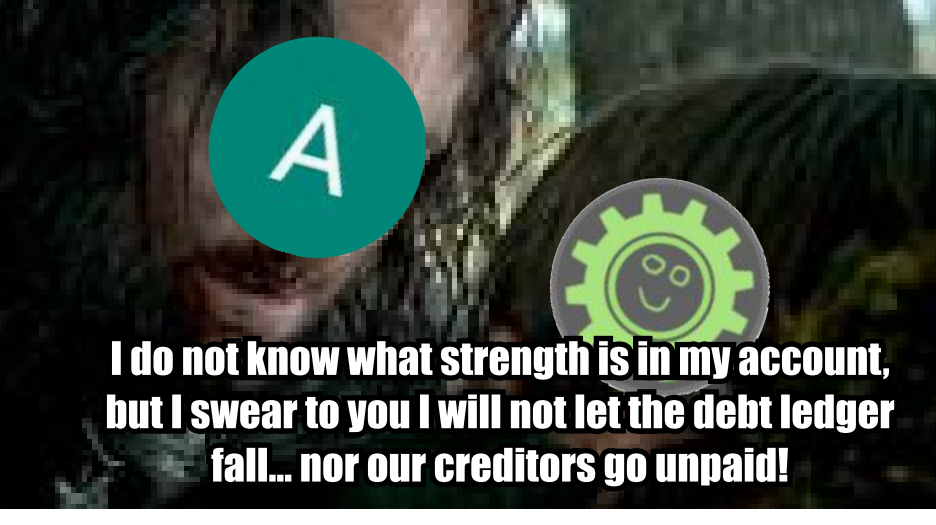

Forgive me. I did not return the debt. I have failed you all.

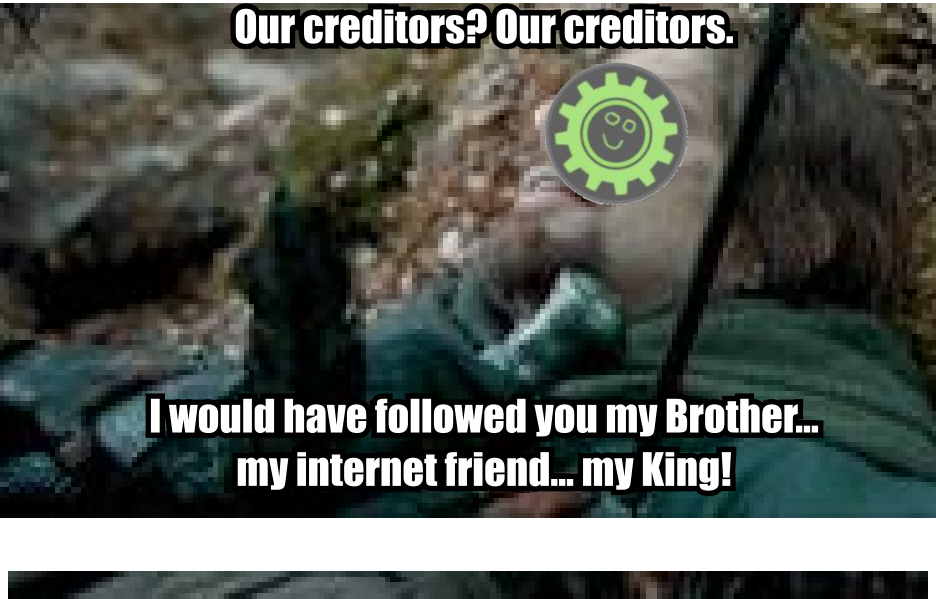

No, Tumbles, you fought bravely! You have kept your honor.

Leave it! It is over. The world of users will fall, and all will come to darkness... and my Complex to ruin.

I do not know what strength is in my account, but I swear to you I will not let the debt ledger fall... nor our creditors go unpaid!

Our creditors? Our creditors.

I would have followed you my Brother... my internet friend... my King!
